NOVEMBER 2010

PAST LIFE HEALING THROUGH REGRESSION & RESTRUCTURING

Exploring the potentials of past lives is a fascinating and enriching experience. It can also be a catalyst for profound spiritual healing and life-changing transformation. This is because the circumstances in our present lives often mirror, and are related to, an event from one or more of our past lives. When we become aware that certain "negative" belief structures that we experience today may be anchored in our subconscious memories from a past life, we can break the self-sabotaging patterns of resistance and open ourselves to decisions and actions that support our highest intentions and free us to live more fully conscious lives.

Join Jaccolin and Joanne Franchina—ordained Spiritualist ministers and certified clairvoyant mediums with several years of experience between them in helping people improve their lives through past-life regression, restructuring, and spiritual healing—in this highly interactive workshop:

- ✦ Experience a group regression session during which you'll explore past lives with the specific intention to discover potential sources of present-day healing.

- ✦ View a demonstration of restructuring, a powerful, multidimensional method for discovering and releasing unconscious response patterns to past trauma.
- ✦ Learn to apply specific elements of regression, restructuring, and spiritual healing to help you begin to release personal patterns of resistance as you experience them in your present life on a day-to-day basis, and make choices that support your highest potentials and intentions.

Saturday, November 6, 12 noon - 4:30 pm.
 $65; early registrations (by October 30) $60.
 Jaccolin Franchina & Joanne Franchina, instructors.

DECEMBER 2010

GALA MESSAGE CIRCLE EVENT & HOLIDAY CELEBRATION

Message Circle Events are popular with groups and those who are new to intuitive readings—and no wonder! They are fun and affordable, and allow one's friends and family members to participate. What happens in a message circle? Well, a handful of participants sit in a circle with a clairvoyant medium, who provides a message, or mini-reading, for each participant in turn. Joanne and her office partner, Rose Vanden Eynden, have invited some of their favorite mediums in the area to participate, including Jaccolin Franchina and Christine Sabick.

This event will be like a "Gala" in the Spiritualist tradition and include special items, such as oracle cards, crystals, spirit art, and more. During each mini-reading, the medium will be inspired by spirit to talk about a particular item that the participant can then take home as a special gift from spirit. That is, after they've enjoyed some lively conversation and refreshments with all of us as we celebrate this festive holiday season!

Friday, December 3, 7 - 10 pm.

$20; limited space, pre-registration required*.

Joanne Franchina, Rose Vanden Eynden, hosts; guest mediums.

To pre-register, email Rose at info@vandeneinden.biz.

Include your name, the number of reservations needed, your email address and telephone number, and how you heard about the event.

HOST A HOLIDAY READING PARTY

Get into the "spirit" of the holiday season this year by hosting a private reading party, message circle, or message service at your home. It's a great way to introduce your friends and family members to readings and messages from spirit loved ones. For even more holiday fun, have Joanne incorporate into each message a special token of remembrance from spirit, such as holiday cards, crystals, or spirit art, that your guests can take home as party favors. Read more about these events (under Services) on the Inner Compass website: www.YourInnerCompass.com, or contact Joanne to talk with her about setting up your unique event.

NEW OFFERING! MEDITATION IN THE WORKPLACE & INNOVATIVE BUSINESS COACHING

Meditation in the Workplace is a coaching service for businesses that includes "lunch and learn" sessions of facilitated group meditations with informal group meditation coaching; or more formal meditation instruction in techniques and practices to enhance the workplace experience, including meditations for creativity and inspiration; for focus and productivity; and for relaxation and balance. It's all part of Joanne's newest line of coaching, Innovative Business Coaching.

Applying her experience as a business analyst and quality assurance manager in the corporate arena, business coaching has become a natural extension of Joanne's life coaching practice. The purpose of business coaching is to help the client to implement key changes that bring meaningful results to the organization and especially, to the lives of the people who work there. Small businesses, autonomous groups within larger organizations, and individuals in key positions such as entrepreneurs, upper managers and change agents, are especially well suited to the leading-edge processes employed by Inner Compass. Offerings include:

- ✦ Seminars, workshops, & lectures, with follow-up coaching. Joanne conducts training sessions in a myriad of relevant business topics, such as life balance, meditation, intuition, group work, and the workplace environment. Following the training, Joanne offers customized coaching for individuals or the group, to help the client effectively apply the knowledge and skills learned during the training.
- ✦ Customized coaching for small groups. Over a series of sessions, Joanne helps the client to clarify their intentions, make appropriate choices, and take effective actions, while she support the client in enhancing their inherent skills, resources, and creativity. Joanne's approach to business coaching is based on her experience as a business analyst and quality assurance manager. What makes it unique is that it also encompasses the universal principles of intention, attraction, and action, as well as a holistic perspective.

THE SERVICE THAT STARTED IT ALL: MEDIUMSHIP READINGS

The purpose of a mediumship reading is to communicate to the client loving, healing, and guiding messages from loved ones in spirit. I use my intuitive and clairvoyant mediumship abilities to receive this spiritual communication, which is always intended for the client's personal empowerment and inspiration. A reading may touch on more than one area of the client's life, such as personal growth, spiritual direction, relationships with significant others, family situations, occupations, or health, yet many readings tend to focus on a core issue. Spirit loved ones are identified as their energetic presences are sensed; these are often relatives or friends who have passed into spirit, and occasionally, spiritual guides who are working with the individual's higher self.

Contact Joanne to schedule a mediumship reading.
